Fighting North of St. Quentin Continues to be Violent

PARIS (1:10 p. m.)—American troops attacked again this morning between the Meuse and the Argonne along an extended front. The advance at some points has reached more than a mile and several villages have been taken.

The forward sweep of the Americans is progressing brilliantly, according to advices received by La Liberté this afternoon. The American forces are in contact with the last defenses of the front line represented by the woods between Brielles and the Meuse.

The enemy is reported to have removed the long distance guns that were protecting the railway junction of Vouziers, six miles north of Montmédy.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE (11 a. m.)—Great tongues of flame were shooting up today from the city of Douai and more fire has been started in Cambrai. The Germans also have applied the torch to many villages in the Cambrai area.

(By the Associated Press)

French and American troops are smashing into the German positions in Champagne and have forced the enemy to withdraw from valuable ground in the hill country near the Suippe river.

East and west of the Argonne and between Rheims there has been heavy fighting to the advantage of the allies.

By advancing northward over the heights of Blanc Mont and the Meuse from the French and American forces the Germans in the east have been forced to retreat from a dangerous position. The front being outflanked, they retired hurriedly toward the Suippe river.

Between the Suippe and Rheims to the west the Germans are still in a position and the indications are that they will retire from it also. Now that they have given up the eastern flank.

General Berthelot is attacking the German positions along the Aisne with great vigor. In the last 24 hours General Berthelot has taken 2,000 prisoners and 31 guns.

West of the Argonne the Germans are fighting with desperation to stay in the line. General Gouraud has been in important communication with the British.

After having taken the forest, after having taken the forest, the American forces are pressing northward into the German defense system.

The French and German continue their pressure, after having captured the important points from the German in hard combats Friday. General Beauriville and Le Catellet have moved forward for substantial gains while near Charleville the French have taken an important height. Prisoners taken in this region by the British to French aggregate 1,200.

West of Lille the Germans continue their withdrawal movement, apparently not as speedily as in the last two days.

PARIS—Under the pressure of French and American troops in Champagne the Germans have retired on their left flank and given up territory east of the Meuse, according to the war office announcement today.

PUBLIC HOUSES CLOSING ORDER IS ONLY RUMOR

Dr. Harper Says Move Against Influenza Not Yet Necessary

It is rumored in capitol circles that an order will soon be forthcoming from Washington that all public meetings will be prohibited as a means of fighting the spread of influenza. Nothing definite could be ascertained concerning the report.

The state board of health, which has the power, does not contemplate closing up the theaters, schools and churches in Wisconsin at the present time. Dr. C. A. Harper, state health officer, made this statement today and said that such a move will not be deemed necessary unless conditions become much worse than they are.

Dr. Harper said he had investigated the situation at the university and declared the sickness prevalent there is not "Spanish" influenza. He said there is no such thing as Spanish influenza, that the disease so termed is common influenza in a bad form. The term "Spanish," he said, is a nickname applied because of the epidemic of the disease in Spain last summer.

Cincinnati Closes Meetings.

The order followed reports from practically all physicians in this city which total displayed the fact that there were approximately 4,000 cases of influenza prevalent here.

S. A. T. C. Men Will Get Pay; Officials Brand Contrary Rumors Fakes

Soldiers Here Will Receive Same Compensation as National Army

CONTRACTS LET

U. S. Provides Funds for Subsistence; Contracts Are Signed

University officials are displeased with rumors which have been circulated through the S. A. T. C. which have a tendency to discourage when who have registered at school.

One story published in local papers which has caused the officials anxiety and which they declare is without foundation is that the men entering the corps will have to use their government pay of $30 a month for subsistence, instruction and housing accommodations.

Many of the younger students fresh from high schools, accepted the rumor as true and some even went so far as to ask for their releases.

Dean Goodnight, educational director of the S. A. T. C., this morning emphatically denied that the program as previously announced by the university and government had been changed. Contracts have been signed by the government which provides for payment for housing, subsistence and instruction for every man who is accepted in the corps.

In addition, each man will receive the same pay as soldiers in the regular army and under the same conditions. The army pays the first of every month, or within a few days. A paymaster already is on the ground and will prepare the payrolls as soon as the registration is complete. No delay will result, Dean Goodnight declares.

"The stories which have been going the rounds of the campus in the last two days are without foundation," said Dean Goodnight this morning. "It is evidently an attempt to discourage some of the younger boys who have registered in the S. A. T. C. The older fellows do not take it seriously. Some of these boys are just out of high school and have never been away from home."

"Newspapers of this city which have published stories founded on rumors are proceeding in the right way to discourage the students and surely are not aiding the government in carrying out a plan for winning the war."

"The government has signed contracts which provide for payment for housing, subsistence and instruction and not one cent will come out of the pay of the men after their induction into service. The government will pay privates their $30 a month and the higher ranking men will receive the same pay as those in similar ranks in the national army."

UNIVERSITY FREE FROM INFLUENZA

S. A. T. C. Medics Take Steps to Prevent an Epidemic

TEST EACH PATIENT

Slightest Symptom Given Closest Scrutiny; Many Suffer From Colds

Not a single case of Spanish influenza has been discovered among the thousands of students who are attending the university, according to announcement made by officials this morning. Each student who has shown the least symptoms of illness has been given a thorough examination and where there might be indications of the disease, the cases have been sent to the clinic.

Because of the change in housing plans, this year, as well as the prevalence of Spanish influenza in training camps, local officials have been unusually alert to segregate those who might be afflicted.

Dr. Joseph Evans, this morning declared that every case which had the slightest earmarks of the disease has been given a bacterial culture test and none has been found which would indicate that Spanish influenza has invaded the camp.

Several grippe cases have been found and immediate steps have been taken to prevent an epidemic. Several cases of colds, most of which are in mild form, have been discovered, medical officers declare.

The situation in 24 hours has become more satisfactory, physicians in attendance claim.

"It is not unusual for the university to have several cases of grippe and cold at the beginning of the school year," said Dr. Evans. "Ordinarily they would not be heard of, but because we are entering upon a military basis and because we are taking precautionary steps to prevent a spread of influenza, some people are getting excited."

"Most of the excitement results from seeing ambulances busy for two days removing students to infirmaries. The sight of masks on the faces of the soldiers and driving of the ambulances also has lent strength to the fear which has spread over the campus."

1,850,000 U. S. FIGHTING MEN IN FRANCE

Spanish Influenza Does Not Check Troop Movement

250,000 PER MONTH

Only Men Not Exposed to Disease Service

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—Despite the epidemic of Spanish influenza embarking of American troops is being continued at the rate of more than 250,000 per month, General March announced today, the total embarked to date now having passed the 1,850,000 mark. The September shipments exceeded 250,000 although cases of influenza in camps at home exceed 100,000.

The policy of the war department in sending overseas only men who have not had the disease and who have not been exposed to it has necessitated material readjustments of the shipping schedule but has not interfered with the total number embarked.

Calls News Excellent

Summarizing the news for the last week as excellent, General March said offensive conducted by the allies on three major sectors had resulted in a forward movement of the battlefield for practically the entire stretch from the North sea to Verdun. General Gouraud's army just west of the Argonne forest has fought its way forward to a point where it also threatens German communication lines.

The British drive on Cambrai and St. Quentin which was aided by the 27th (New York troops) and 30th (Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina and District of Columbia troops) American divisions developed into a battle for the entire Hindenburg line. The British, General March said, have broken entirely across the enemy's zone of defense, making breaches in the line which were closed by the Germans only with great difficulty.

The progress of General Pershing's forces caused the German general staff to throw into this sector many divisions of reinforcements, the chief of staff said, but despite this the Americans not only have maintained the positions won, but have pushed forward until they now face the German Kriemhild line of defense.

In Flanders the drive of the allies has reconquered 75 square miles of Belgian territory and has formed a semi-circular salient ten miles deep. Ostend and Zebrugge, German submarine bases, are so threatened that it is reported their evacuation has begun. The British are within five miles of Lille.

Referring to the Balkan situation General March said the Italian advance in Albania is closely following the Austrian army retreating along the coast. He added that the recent naval attack on Durazzo behind the Austrian front was extremely important in connection with the allied strategy.

WISCONSIN TROOPS IN RUSSIA

American troops at Archangel are commanded by Col. Geo. E. Stewart and include the 339th infantry, part of the 310th engineers (both Michigan and east Wisconsin troops) and the necessary hospital and medical units.

The 77th division (New York national army) which took its place on the Vesie line late in August, General March said, participated in the advance to the Aisne between September 4 and 14. The 88th division (North Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa and Western Illinois troops) has not yet been reported in action, he continued, and its permanent commander has not been named. Brigadier General W. D. Beach is in temporary command.

2,000 NIGHT WORKMEN IMPERILED

New Jersey Shell Making Plant Wrecked by Explosions

CASUALTIES UNKNOWN

Neighboring Towns Evacuated; Fire Threatens Plants

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK—After more than 18 hours of terror, with scenes graphically resembling those in war-devastated France, a dozen towns in northern New Jersey were in a shattered condition this afternoon as a consequence of the munitions disaster which visited the district last night with a trail of tremendous explosions and raging fires which continued throughout today.

At the $18,000,000 shell making plant—one of the greatest industries of its kind in the world—of T. A. Gillespie & Co., at Morgan, N. J., one of communities of manufacturers producing ammunition for the American and allied armies, an explosion from an unknown cause scattered fire brands among tons of trinitrotoluol, the most powerful explosive known. Detonation followed upon detonation and these repeatedly shook the terrain for a radius of 50 miles, city territory including New York, where buildings were shaken, and the Black glass shattered much as the Black Tom island explosion in the harbor here rocked the metropolis two years ago.

Flames Barn Unopposed

With the situation at Morgan this afternoon such that firemen, soldiers, sailors and civilian workers found it impossible to penetrate to a zone within two miles of the Gillespie plant, no definite estimate could be made of the number of the persons who have perished. The flames burned unopposed at the Gillespie shops and were threatening with destruction two other great munitions plants in the vicinity.

Unofficial estimates placed the dead at upwards of 137, based upon statements of persons who claimed they knew of the destruction of various groups of employees and firemen during certain periods of explosion. The night shift was known to number 2,000 persons and the ones accounted for in the afternoon were numbered only in scores. While it was considered possible that the loss of life would be found to be reckoned by the hundreds, officers of the Gillespie company expressed opinions that such an estimate at this time would be exaggerated.

Fourteen bodies were reported to have been identified. That others are in the ruins is believed likely. It is feared some of the men employed were destroyed and that no trace of them would ever be found.

Cities Evacuated

Meanwhile some of the communities which surround Morgan with populations totalling more than 60,000 persons were evacuated almost as completely as if they were in European war zones. Homes have been ruined and the roads leading out of devastated districts were thronged all night and all day with men, women and children fleeing to points of safety.

Fearing other explosions the authorities of many towns ordered homes evacuated but found that their warnings had already been obeyed. Tons of T. N. T. were buried in a creek bank not far from the Gillespie plant and thought to be safe from explosion, but precautionary measures were taken because of the proximity of the other munitions industries.

The city was again shaken at noon by another series of terrific explosions.

Other Plants Threatened

PERTH AMBOY—At 11 o'clock today flames and sparks from the Gillespie plant were threatening two other big munition places known as the Oliver and California plants. Hundreds of soldiers, sailors, Gillespie employees and civilian volunteers were engaged in a desperate fight to avert an even greater disaster.

As a measure of precaution the authorities ordered the evacuation of all towns within a ten mile radius of Morgan.

LOAN NOW IS AT $1,617,900 IN MADISON

Big Additions From East
Side Shop Workers Expected Today

Official City Subscription Bank Clearings, Reported by Liberty Loan Auditor W. D. Tenney as of Oct. 4.

Total subscriptions	$1,617,900
Increase since last report	71,500
City quota	2,884,400

The returns summarized in the foregoing statement represent the Madison Liberty loan situation as officially reported this afternoon. It does not take into account a large number of subscriptions turned in early this afternoon from the Steiner, Four Lakes Ordnance and other plants which were received too late for tabulation and inclusion in this statement.

The city and town of Madison, which have a common quota in this campaign, still have to raise $1,213,500. To do this in 14 days is Madison's big task to which the already overworked solicitors are bending cheerfully and hopefully. They will work tonight and Sunday to see as many prospective subscribers as possible, and to persuade those who are well able to buy bonds but have allowed others to assume their burden, to enter into the spirit of the contest and prove themselves worthy of being fought for.

Country Workers See Finish. Dane county's accomplishments in the loan, elsewhere reported today, show progress in every town where the citizens have not already gone over the top. Their work is well reflected in the statement that the districts outside of Madison have attained 74 percent of their quota. Those districts have filed returns showing $1,810,850 subscribed to the fourth loan, and a dozen townships are so near the top that they could repeat victory without much difficulty if a few delinquent prospects would not retard the final tabulation.

The receiving office for city reports in the room in the rear of the Central Wisconsin Trust company will be open until 10 o'clock tonight for captain's returns. It will be discontinued thereafter. No reports will be received Sunday. Beginning Monday morning captains will make their returns to the Liberty loan headquarters in the Association of Commerce rooms, Cantwell block. The accounting division will remain in the offices of the Madison Bond company where W. D. Tenney and a force of assistants are handling the returns with maximum dispatch and perfect system.

To wind up Madison's task as early as possible, many field workers are persistently following the urgent solicitations of the campaign managers that citizens double their third loan subscriptions, or add to their present purchases. There are many reports of satisfactory results where this practice has been followed. One case was that of the Wisconsin Foundry and Machine company, where on their first round of the shop A. J. Buzenli and Ben. Stauffer secured $4,200 in subscriptions, and upon a second canvass the next day pledges for $700 more were added. The fund at this plant later was increased to $5,150, an average of $68.66 for every employee taking bonds.

Every woman listed for canvass by the women workers in the third ward was seen by women corporals. One hundred and fifteen bonds were sold to third ward women, of which $1 were of the $5 denomination. This was reported to the women's meeting this week by Mrs. C. A. Hager, ward captain. A few more were looked for in later returns. Stores responded remarkably well, the report said. The $5 who bought $50 bonds were working women who by sacrificing and saving small sums out of their earnings found a way to share with the rest in the nation's war fund.

Girls Set Example. Places where support was least expected were entered in the canvass; no one was passed by. The girls in the Kresge store were especially loyal to the cause. Here it was announced that the company offered to add $1 more per week to

"PAULIE" MEYERS NOT DEAD SAYS FATHER TODAY

Paul, "Paulie" D. Meyers, captain of the 1916 Badger football squad and all-conference end, is not dead.

Mr. W. J. Meyers, his father, when called by long distance telephone today at his home, 699 Prospect avenue, Milwaukee, said that he had received no official information from the war department of the death of his son and had telegraphed to Washington for details.

The rumors circulating in this vicinity about his death are due to a letter received by a private in the aviation service in France saying that a Paul Meyers had been killed in an accident on Sept. 2. Reports in many papers so reported his death. Yesterday, however, Mr. Meyers received a letter from his son, dated Sept. 3, saying that all was well and still pretty hot for the "Huns." It is probable that the Meyers in question is one other than the famous grid star.

LALLEY-LIGHT

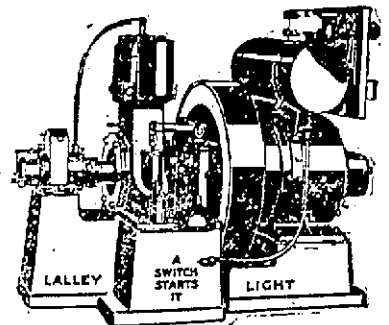

ELECTRIC LIGHT AND POWER FOR EVERY FARM

Saves Labor on the Farm

Lalley-Light is actually a farm economy. It is an economy because it saves both labor and time. It is economy because, on the other hand, it gives better light for work which must be done before daylight or after dark.

Used to operate separators, churns, etc., its power saves labor by releasing that labor to perform some other task. And it is reliable. Light and power are always ready at the lowest possible operating cost.

Owners themselves tell you so in our testimonial book. It is free; and a demonstration of Lalley-Light is free.

WHAT ABOUT WOMEN AND CHILDREN HERE?

WHILE we are fighting for the women and children of Europe have we forgotten the women and children of America?

"We are fighting to make the world safe for democracy, but we must also fight to make our children fit to perpetuate this democracy when it shall have been attained."

So writes S. J. Baker in the New York Medical Journal.

Word comes from the south that cotton mill owners are putting child workers back on the job. These child workers are working eleven hours a day.

Our readers will recall that the supreme court recently said that the child labor law passed by congress was unconstitutional. And so because of some legal phraseology enumerated by somebody long since dead "unconstitutionality" again comes to the aid of autocracy.

Members of the United States senate from the south have been among the foremost in that body in the past year in sparkling oratory that has sounded the praises of democracy. John Sharp Williams, Oscar Underwood, Bankhead, Overman and Hoke Smith have been soloists in the performance of rendering vocal salutations to democracy.

But down in Alabama and Mississippi and the Carolinas children are going back to work. We have heard a lot in this war of the mistreatment of children.

A child who goes into a cotton mill to work will not attain to the same age as the child who gets the fresh air and play that it should have.

We are sending these children into mills where their lives will be shortened and yet the spokesmen of these children stand in the U. S. senate and make their hollow professions of democracy.

We have heard a lot about the treatment of women in this war. And yet WE think so little of our women that we refuse to extend the sacred right of franchise to them.

And again these same senators from the south, who boast of their chivalry with the same flamboyancy that they boast of their democracy, deny citizenship to 20,000,000 women in this country.

The Capital Times has no desire to fan the fires of sectionalism. This isn't the time or place to do it. But we are interested in these things from the standpoint of the difficult position occupied by the president.

President Wilson's strength in the present struggle is the loftiness of purpose with which he has approached the European struggle. Our program does not contemplate sordid designs of imperialism or commercial emoluments. We are, as has so often been said, interested only in maintaining democracy against the onslaughts of autocracy.

Our position is weakened when our enemies point to us and show serious defects in our own program of democracy.

The Bourbon democratic senators from the south should begin to think of women and children in this country.

They cannot continue to talk about the women and children of Belgium without being hypocrites.

WHERE ARE WE DRIFTING?

RECENTLY Mr. Burleson held up the issue of The Nation, the periodical to which Oswald Garrison Villard, former editor of the New York Evening Post is now giving his entire attention. As usual, the specific reason for holding up the periodical could not be ascertained.

It is encouraging to note that President Wilson himself took a hand in the matter and that upon his order the periodical was admitted to the mails. The following editorial in the New Republic discusses the matter:

According to the Washington dispatches of last week, the President himself was responsible for the action of the Post Office Department in permitting the issue of The Nation of September 14th to pass through the mails. If this report of the President's interference is true, we trust that he relieved himself of the need of further interference of the same kind by formulating more definite rules for the exercise in the future of the Post Office censorship. of opinion. Whatever may be the justification for the criminal prosecutions for sedition under the espionage act which are being undertaken by the Department of Justice, they conform to legal process and give to the accused his day in court and a public hearing. But the Post Office censorship in its method of operation constitutes an extreme case of the exercise of an arbitrary administrative discretion. "An editor who may wish to criticize certain aspects of the government's policy without violating the law cannot insure himself against the danger of suppression. In the case of the Nation of September 14th, most of the people who read the number attributed the threat of condemnation in the beginning to the article on civil rights rather than to the article on Mr. Gompers. It is an ironical fact that just when the American Post Office was threatening to suppress the issue of a journal for criticizing the activities of Mr. Gompers in England, Mr. Gompers himself was offering a resolution to the Allied Labor Conference in favor of an international guaranty of freedom of speech.

The postoffice department has thrown a pall of fear and uncertainty over the American press in the last year. The average editor doesn't know what he can say and what he cannot say. Rather than take any chances he says nothing.

Mr. Burleson, for instance, has demoralized the postal service in this country. It had already become demoralized before war started. And yet editors are afraid to say anything about it because they fear they will incur the displeasure of Mr. Burleson. When the present practice suppresses criticism of governmental policies remote from the conduct of the war it is time to inquire as to where we are drifting.

Constructive criticism is a far different thing than criticism which leads to obstruction of the war. The whole tendency of the policy of the postoffice department is against constructive criticism.

Voice of the People

To the Editor of The Capital Times: From the first issue of the Capital Times up to the present time I have been more than pleased with the strong progressive policy of Madison's youngest newspaper.

Your editorials ring true and hit the nail on the head. The work you are doing in these days of profligacy and patriotism is certainly very much to be appreciated by two masses.

If I were forced to take my choice between The Capital Times and any of the Minneapolis papers I would certainly prefer The Capital Times because of its independent and fearless stand in behalf of the common people.

As an old Madisonian and a believer in the progressive policy of your paper I am sorry that I am not in a position to do your paper more good. The best I can do is to endorse herewith my check for two new subscriptions and my subscription for another year.

IN DARKEST STOUGHTON

Do you know what is going on in Stoughton? If you don't, just take a few minutes off and take a walk around, especially on Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

Stoughton is a dry town or it is supposed to be. But far from it the way it looks on Saturday nights; not dry and no police protection. Take for instance last Saturday evening when the boys came back, some from Janesville, some from London, Jefferson, Fort Atkinson, and so on with from a one-half pint to a suit case full, supposed to be fire water, but maybe it was pop. But the boys and men didn't act like it was pop. They were drinking and also the way the boys were driving their horses up and down Main street after 9:30 p. m. till after midnight and also driving cars at a very fast speed, too fast to even get a look at their number on front or back. I thought Stoughton had a speed limit for driving, but it doesn't look as if they have.

In regards to last Saturday evening when the boys came back from their trip, especially some of them feeling the worst or tired and got that awful feeling from what they had or were drinking, dropped into a place on side streets to take a little rest and another one came up to him.

"Why, hello, I am glad to see you. Where have you been? Have you got anything to drink? My bottle is gone. Let's go down cellar and have a drink. You get a bottle, and say I can beat you at any game of pool you want to play. I'll bet you $5, $10, $20. I doubt if you can show up $10," and so on.

Bye and bye they go down cellar for basement, whichever it may be, and call to some more of their friends to come along. Some of them hesitate to go, but one says "Come on or I'll knock the H— out of you." Bye and bye they go, they just wanted to be coaxed a little. After awhile bad words commenced to be exchanged and loud talking. Pretty soon some one hits the floor or something else. "Don't you do it. Let me go," and so on. Isn't that nice for not only one place but several others. Go out for one-half or three-quarters of an hour and go up one side of Main street to the library and down the other side to River bridge. No police to be seen. Keep out of sight is the best way not to see what is going on in Stoughton. What has become of our temperance men and women and also of our dry league? It looks like they have forgotten to keep on the watch for drinking liquor on streets or in public places.

Wake up and take a look. See what you can see and hear around, say, for instance, on Wednesday night and Saturday night if you haven't time any other time, and if you can't spare the time or are afraid to for fear you might see or hear something that would not just quite suit your taste, please get someone to take your place; someone that has got a backbone of his own and can stick up for his rights and who isn't afraid to say something. Go into some of those places and see what is going on or if afraid to go in, stand outside and take a look in through the door or window. You can see and hear things, that if you have got any respect for yourself or the citizens of Stoughton you would do something in regards to liquor drinking in public places or minors playing pool and fast driving and horse racing on the streets of Stoughton.

Night after night we have horse racing up and down West Main street from the bridge to Monroe street. Racing and hollering up and down way late in the night. Sometimes early Sunday mornings, say 1, 2, 3 o'clock; and also how about your city ordinance regarding lights on automobiles? I notice lots of cars have no lights on in front or behind either.

I thought we had a law to that effect about having lights on cars. Of course, anything and everything is all O. K. in Stoughton. How would it be if the speed department, the drys, and the minor's playing pool committee and the lights on car committee would chip together and hire a good man to look after these things, as our city police seems to have all he can do just walking up and down Main street from city hall to department corner, and don't seem to be very busy either. But of course they haven't got time to take on extra orders, and we can't find them when wanted half of the time. Of course they have their hours off and that must be the time when they are wanted the worst. Now it is high time something was doing.

Wake up, citizens of Stoughton, and do something. Be up with other towns. Let us go over to any of our neighboring towns and go drinking in public places or allow minors playing pool or running racing horses and cars in town at night without any lights on and see how quick they will find out how much money we have in our pocketbook. The fines are fair, but protection is better. Safety first.

LIKES EDITORIALS.

To the Editor of The Capital Times: Enclosed please find check for subscription. The editorial page alone is worth the money. If it can get to voters enough in the state is the only question. Give me a man with sense enough to appreciate the difference between right and wrong and is not afraid to say so.

They may kill off the man but the principle never.

Interests Are Organized Against Municipal Ownership

BY CARL D. THOMPSON.

[From The Herald and Examiner.] The people of this country want the public ownership of public utilities.

The people want the government to keep the railroads and the wire systems, now that it has "taken them over." And especially since hundreds of millions of dollars of the people's money is being put into the roads to repair and equip them and bring them up to standard.

The people do not propose to have their millions of money invested in these utilities, have the earnings of the owners guaranteed, and then keep on paying excess profits to the profiteers forever.

The people want the actual and permanent public ownership of these utilities.

The people also want the cities to own their public utilities. Everywhere the private light, gas and traction companies are fighting in desperation for higher rates and for long term franchises. Municipal ownership is the only solution.

But the trouble is the big interests that wring their prodigious profits out of private ownership are organized, while the people are not. The big interests have their press agents everywhere, their utility experts, their lobbyists in congress, their high priced attorneys and millions of money to carry on their campaign and fight their battles.

To meet that sort of combination the public ownership forces must be organized.

To this end the Public Ownership League of America has been formed. Its object is to advance the public ownership, efficient management and democratic control of public utilities and natural resources. Its immediate purpose is to bring together upon a broad nonpartisan basis all the various elements that believe in public ownership; to federate and co-ordinate these forces in order that their efforts may be made more effective and cumulative.

Its immediate purpose is to bring together upon a broad nonpartisan basis all the various elements that believe in public ownership; to federate and co-ordinate these forces in order that their efforts may be made more effective and cumulative.

There is need, first of all, of a reliable source of information both popular and technical with reference to public ownership. Bulletins, leaflets, books and a press service are required. These are being developed. A bulletin of 148 pages on "Municipal Electric Light and Power Plants in the United States and Canada" has already been published. One on "Municipal Gas Plants" and a third on the "Proceedings of the Public Ownership Conference Held Last Year" are on the press. Others are to follow. Each phase of public ownership is to be thoroughly investigated by competent and reliable authorities and their findings published. There are also the technical and engineering as well as the legislative and legal phases of the problem that have to be worked out.

The Public Ownership League is undertaking to supply these services and to help the public along these lines. Forward looking people are invited and urged to join.

There are several forms of membership: Regular members pay $5 per year; contributing members pay $10; library members pay $5; associate members pay $2 per year.

It is now proposed to establish a municipal or utility membership, at $25 per year and upwards to $500 and $1,000 per year, according to the population of the city. The purpose of this form of membership is to create a common fund out of which the municipalities that own and operate any of their utilities may secure expert and reliable engineering, legal and accounting and other necessary service when required.

Men and women of national note are back of the movement.

Hon. Albert M. Todd of Kalamazoo, Mich., is the president, and Carl D. Thompson of Chicago is secretary.

Mr. Thompson is in charge of the national office of the league, which is in the Unity building, in Chicago.

The treasurer is Mr. Charles E. Ingersoll of the famous Ingersoll Watch Company.

Among the officers and committee-men are such well known men and women as Frank P. Walsh, joint chairman of the war labor board; Amos Pinchot of New York; Professor Charles Zuehlke of Boston; Miss Jane Addams, Hull House, Chicago; Hon. Edward F. Dunne, former governor of Illinois; Delos F. Wilcox, public utility expert; Louis F. Post, of the Department of Labor; Hon. Robert L. Owen, United States senator of Oklahoma; Frank Hayes, president United Mine Workers of America; David J. Lewis of the Federal Telegraph and Telephone systems, and many others.

Full information may be received from the national office of the Public Ownership League of America, 1439 Unity Building, 127 North Dearborn street, Chicago.

REBUILT SERBIAN ARMY WILL BE FACTOR IN WAR AGAIN; CAN THROW WHOLE FORCE AGAINST AUSTRIANS AND GERMANS

Oxen hauling Serbian cannon, American ambulances in Macedonia and Prince Regent of Serbia who leads part of Serbia's forces.

The elimination of Bulgaria from the war, via the armistice route, will permit Serbia to turn her entire rebuilt army against the Austrians and Germans and will give Roumania relief. Serbia may again be considered a factor in the war. Her army is well organized. While in many sections of the country, due to the nature of it, primitive methods of hauling supplies and munitions are still in use, Serbia's force has been modernized, as is evidenced by the fact that American ambulances have penetrated now to practically every part of the allied battle field.

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

English women complained, whined and clamored, and finally fought for the vote and what they termed their rights. They were ignored, and argued with, and fought off and finally put in jail, but they did not get "their rights."

Then one day the men started to do something else besides wrangle with the women. They went off to war and fought and died for their country and those very same women.

And the women in turn started to do something else besides throw bricks through plateglass windows after every suffrage meeting. Instead they went off to hospitals and war work centers and exercised what rights they did have for those same men.

Finally the country and some of the very men who had been so bitter on the suffrage question asked the women to do those things which were "men's work and men's work only." They were called to the farms, the factories, the railroads, the shipyards and although they were still allowed to say nothing in making the laws to govern this labor they turned out in large numbers. And so it is that the English women are coming into "their rights" as a result of the war.

The possibility of a peacetime sitting in the house of lords now looms up on the horizon of English politics, a thing which was not even thought of before the war.

At the request of her father to King George of England, Lady Rhonda, the wife of the late Lord Rhonda, England's former fuel administrator, has been made viscountess. Her daughter, Lady Macworth, now desires that she occupy her father's seat, in the house of lords, which desire if fulfilled will make her the first peeress to occupy a seat in the house of lords. "C'est la Guerre."

Western Farmerettes a Success

Four hundred and sixty-five "farmerettes" were sent out from the southern California branch of the women's land service from May 1 to July 17 last, to aid California ranchers in their efforts to increase the country's food supply. Nearly all of these have remained in the service, and as proof that these young women are capable filling the places of men called into the army or other activities connected with the war it was pointed out at the headquarters of the service that many of their requests for help came from ranches near those to which units had previously been sent.

Volunteers in the women's land army sent out from Los Angeles include teachers, stenographers, saleswomen, waitresses and school girls. Most of them have been employed in gathering and preparing for market delicious fruit. Activities of others have included driving tractors, dairying, planting tomatoes, harvesting various crops and making hay.

The dairy industry has many large dairies near Los Angeles and women have largely replaced men as milkers. Of the first units sent to the dairies only a few of the young women had milked before, and most of them were unaware that there is a "wrong" as well as a "right" side to a cow until they had been kicked over by outraged animals.

Girl in Italian Army

Italy has an attractive heroine who hails from Mantua. She served through several campaigns as a soldier in the Italian army. A severe wound received in action led to the discovery of her sex, but not until she had served with distinction through several battles, having received a silver medal for bravery.

Two of her brothers were in the Bersagliere corps, and becoming weary of the ordinary feminine war work she enlisted and succeeded in passing herself off as a man. Both her brothers were killed in action and she helped bury them.

When her sex was discovered she was honorably discharged and today bears the unique distinction of being the only woman who has served in the Bersagliere.

At any hour of the day one can witness this scene behind the battleline. The picture shows just one of the many "bags" of German prisoners. This group would make an entire company. The captives are being brought into the prison camp in the rear of the lines by British cavalrymen.

WHO'S WHO IN "The Great Love"
 D. W. GRIFFITH, world famous producer and director, whose innovations have changed the whole course of motion picture industry and whose methods set the standard, personally directed "The Great Love." Mr. Griffith's fame is so world-wide that he had no great difficulty in securing the assistance of the nobility of England when he needed help in producing "The Great Love." Like "The Birth of a Nation," "Intolerance" and "Hearts of the World," "The Great Love" bears an unmistakable stamp, the stamp of a master-craftsman; that means the stamp of D. W. Griffith.
 LILLIAN GISH, whom you have seen in "The Birth of a Nation" and "Hearts of the World," is not only beautiful, but a dramatic actress, unsurpassed as a genuine artist.
 ROBERT HARRON started with D. W. Griffith seven years ago. During that time he has played an important part in each of D. W. Griffith's larger productions. In "The Great Love" he will again score the successes that were his in "The Birth of a Nation" and "Hearts of the World."
 GEORGE FAWCETT will be remembered by each one of your audiences as Robert Harron's loving kunkie in "Hearts of the World." He is one of the greatest character actors of the screen and stage. GEORGE SIEGMANN has played in "The Birth of a Nation," "Intolerance" and "Hearts of the World." In the last two pictures he played villainous parts—Von Boehm in "Hearts of the World." Incidentally Mr. Siegmann is now in the Service.

 ROSEMARY THEBY has been closely identified with many of the greatest hits of the motion picture art, but in one of them she has been offered a part with such wide possibilities as that of the spy who "ramps" a loyal man to treason and destruction.
 GLORIA HOPE played the part of the daughter in "The Guilty Man." That is sufficient introduction to satisfy the most critical audience.
 THE DOWAGER QUEEN ALEXANDRIA, widow of the late King Edward VII of England and daughter of the late King Christian of Denmark.

BOND SALES IN COUNTY NEAR TWO MILLIONS

Returns Show 74 Per Cent of Quota Raised Outside City

The tide of enthusiastic support for the Fourth Liberty loan in the villages and townships throughout Dane county is reflected in County Chairman Vea's daily report issued this noon. According to this, the rural section of the county has contributed $1,810,850. With the sum of $1,617,900 contributed by the city of Madison, the county as a whole has raised $3,428,750 towards a quota of $5,225,000, leaving $1,796,250 unsubscribed. The larger part of this deficit falls on the workers in the city of Madison.

For the purposes of this drive, the town and city of Madison are considered as one unit. The township has already raised $53,000. Town and city together must subscribe $1,213,500. About 68 percent of the amount yet to be pledged by the township and city combined has been raised. The county outside of the city of Madison raised 75 percent of its quota, and the entire county has equalled 65 percent of its quota.

Lawrence Brereton, Dane chairman, was in Madison today and brought his first report which shows 104 sales for a total of $23,350, the quota being $51,500. Eighteen hundred dollars more was added by Masonville today, $5,550 by Oregon, $2,200 by Monroe, $1,950 by Perry, and $2,200 by Westport.

The first report from Roxbury greeted county campaign officials this morning when Chairman Michael Mack brought in returns for $17,400, which came from only one-half of his solicitors. This is considered a most gratifying showing for this town and there will be no cessation of activity until Roxbury has crossed the line. This outcome is regarded as sure to follow.

Many towns are nearly over the top, the only thing holding up a final report being a desire of the solicitors to get every man to subscribe. It is the delinquent citizens who are retarding efforts for early success. The workers are doing their full duty all along the line.

Today's report from the county is as follows:

SHORT CAPES ARE LATEST FUR MODE

This short cape of kolinsky gives just the needed touch of warmth for the "between seasons" time of year. It is a becoming model with a long roll collar and a one-button fastening. These capes are a real necessity for the woman who wears a one-piece street frock.

S. A. T. C. TEAMS REPLACE BELOIT FOR TWIN GAME

Dreaded "Flu" Cancels Game, But Badgers Will Play

There will be two football games probably between the first and second team and two other eleven and a general get-together of S. A. T. C. men this afternoon at Camp Randall. The band will be out and community singing led by Prof. E. B. Gordon will be a feature of the occasion.

Men will march to Camp Randall in company formation and will occupy the west bleachers. All are required to attend.

Director T. E. Jones is trying to arrange a game with Camp Grant for some future date, but as yet he has not been able to put this game into the schedule. Ripon is on the card for next Saturday.

The cancellation of the Beloit game has proved a disappointment to the Badger coaches, as it was in this tilt that the football mentors planned to get some sort of a definite line on the men in uniform. A regular game between the ra and the black eleven, the first and second squads, will probably be put on for Saturday if no other game is secured.

Sixty men appeared in uniform at Camp Randall Thursday afternoon, the largest number since practice was begun last week. The aggregation was first put through a light practice and then was divided into five full eleven.

Straight ball played. Coach Richards and Coach Guy Lowry put the entire squad through a stiff practice. Straight football was played for more than an hour after which the coaches ordered the men to go the limit. Hard line smashes and long runs followed in rapid succession until the men began to show effects of the short practice they have so far had.

The first real scrimmage between the first and second teams produced a number of lightning plays. The work of J. Brader at left end, was particularly fast, downing practically every attempt made to gain around his end.

Coach Richards sent the two squads through a rapid fire drill, watching carefully the play of each man. Both teams were nearly even except for the brilliant line smashes of W. A. Barr. A 24 yard run through right end by Barr of the first team was the only score chalked up in the afternoon.

Brader was knocked out for several minutes when he made a flying tackle at Smith, who had trotted through several of the first squad men for a good gain and downed him. Coach Richards gave a number of the play a chance to get in the scrimmage.

Prospective Line-up Picked. Though no definite team has as yet been picked by the coaches, there are the aspirants to varsity honors have been placed in the "A" team. These men, in all probability, will be sent against the Camp Grant eleven if a game is arranged.

Coach Richards and Lowman were well pleased with Thursday's work-out, and both are certain that Wisconsin has the material for an eleven that will put up as stiff a fight as any other squad in the Big Ten.

"With a little more practice we will have a team that will make a good showing in the conference," Coach Richards said after the work-out on Thursday. "We have the material and all we need now is a little more time to develop this green aggregation."

King Brady, who has trained the Chicago National League baseball team for the past two years, has been secured as trainer for the Badger football squad. Brady was also trainer for two years with the Chicago Cubs, later going to Columbus.

MADISON ELEVEN TO PLAY ROCKFORD

The Madison high eleven will meet the Rockford high in the first big out of state game next Saturday. The team is reported as being in excellent condition and hopes to serve the Rockford men the same game they handed Stoughton. The final line-up has not been decided upon, but Manager David Gay gives a list of men whom he believes will serve.

ILLINOIS
URBANA — Bob Zuppke's Illinois met a tartar today when the Charuto aviators invaded Illinois field. The Fliers have such stars as Weston of Michigan, Carpenter of Wisconsin, and Gardner of Cornell. Bert Ingwersen, last year's center, now shifted to tackle, is the only letter man on the Illini squad, but Loveloy served as subquarter and Bregman was a half-back reserve. Bob Fletcher, last year's freshman star, will pilot the eleven at quarter.

INDIANA
BLOOMINGTON — A little matter of 25 minutes kept Center colleges of Kentucky from filling its date with Indiana today. The manager wired from Danville that the commandant refused to allow the team to leave until after 6 a. m., which would be just 25 minutes after the train had left for Bloomington.

Hearing that the Center date had been canceled, the coach at Kentucky State called up Coach Stiehm over the telephone and said the commandant there had given the team permission to come for the game here, and the offer was accepted. The game will be called at 1 o'clock to allow the visitors to catch the first train home.

MICHIGAN

ANN ARBOR — Michigan met Case eleven today on Ferry field. Case comes for its annual tilt with even old men on the team, while Michigan's team with two exceptions was untried.

PURDUE

LAFAYETTE — In response to orders from the commandant, many new candidates for the Purdue football eleven reported to Coach Scanlon Friday. Today two games were staged, four companies of the training detachment and student training corps being represented.

Coach Scanlon watched the line to pick material for his squad. Capt. Huffine got into the game, together with Markley, Dailey, McIntosh, Bartlett, and other Purdue varsity men.

The Boiler-makers will not be able to play Illinois here Oct. 19 and it is likely Wabash will be substituted.

PASTOR ARRESTED AS DRAFT EVADER

Rev. Albert Mullet, pastor of the Pentecostal church at Eau Claire, was arrested in that city Friday by United States Marshal O'Connor on a charge of failing to register on Sept. 12. He was placed under bond to await the action of the federal grand jury.

SCHUBERT REMAINS WATER BOARD HEAD

J. C. Schubert was re-elected president of the city water board Friday night and Frank Hays was re-elected secretary. No action was taken regarding the proposed 8,000,000 gallon pump, most of the evening being devoted to the consideration of claims.

Trap Gun and Rod by Tom Marshall

There are kings in the trapshoot world—men who are shooting experts under all conditions, climatic or personal. Contesting through a succession of registered tournaments, covering months of time; shooting at thousands of targets, thrown at different angles and velocity, over grounds of different contour, in a job lot of wind and weather. Men are able to concentrate and so direct the muzzle of their gun, pointing it at flying targets, not to exceed four inches in diameter, that there are less than three mistakes in judgment on every 100 targets shot. The computation of averages for the season of 1917 crowned Wm. H. Heer of Guthrie, Oklahoma, amateur champion of the United States, breaking 97.41 per cent on 2050 targets. Lester German, of Aberdeen, Maryland, annexed the professional season's championship, with an average of 97.64 per cent on 6285 targets. The above marvelous records are a testimonial to the skill of the kings, coupled with perfection in guns and shells as furnished by American manufacturers.

William Heer, the present amateur champion, was formerly a professional, having been in the St. Flower state. He spent his boyhood days on a farm about eight miles from Concordia, Kansas. A vein of coal was discovered on the home farm and Billy became a miner. His work was strenuous and he seldom swung Indian clubs for necessary exercise.

When a trapshoot day was issued to the world by the Pacific Coast contingent, matching Frank Troch of Vancouver, Washington, in an individual race against all comers at 500 single yard targets for a $4,000 purse, Billy Heer was the man selected to pull that David work against Goliath. He went forth with his little slung-shot, properly fitted with a pebble, and "brought home the bacon," defeating Troch by a score of 473 to 470, the narrow margin of three targets. Heer qualified as a contestant in the National Amateur Championship in 1918, by winning the Oklahoma State Championship. In the finals held during the Grand American Handicap in Chicago he was successful over the field, breaking 98 targets out of a possible 100. He was tied by F. S. Fomlin of New Jersey, who succumbed to the prowess of Heer in the shoot-off. Wm. H. Heer is justly crowned the National Amateur Champion.

Lester German, of Aberdeen, Md., landed high in the 1917 season's averages with 97.64 per cent. He certainly demonstrated the fact that he possessed all necessary professional championship qualifications. German has been identified with the sporting world for many years. As the premier pitcher for the Giants of New York, with Park Wilson as team-mate behind the bat, they put up a front that assisted materially in landing the pennant. His success on the diamond and before the traps is due to his ability to concentrate at all times, having no "Block" under perfect control, weighing up and taking advantage of every angle that might permit success upon his banner. His duty as a scatter-gun artist, was made upon the flats adjacent to Chesapeake Bay, in pursuit of ducks, the feathered ones of the air. Finally persuaded to "have a try" on targets, his meteoric trapshoot career was launched. His ability to rapidly compute angles, loads, elevation, dips and velocity, putting into immediate action every necessary faculty, requisite for a successful trapshoot, attracted the attention of the Du Pont Powder company, who immediately put him on the pay roll as a professional trantshot.

Vocational School Enrolls
545; English Classes
Not Filled

The total enrollment at the Madison Vocational school for both day and night classes is 545 pupils, Director A. M. Siewers announced today. He also said that in the majority of the classes, especially the evening classes, there is room for many more students. The shorthand and typewriting class, evening, with an enrollment of 140, is filled to capacity and can take no more students at present. Additional pupils are especially wanted in the evening class in business English for clerks and stenographers, the military English class for drafted men, and in the regular class in English. In the special sewing class for girls held at the Sixth ward library every evening there is room for 15 more pupils, and a like number of additional students can be taught at the class in mechanical drawing held nightly at the same place. Eleven teachers are employed in the day classes and 16 in the evening classes.

MOVIE NOTES

With the news that Eileen Percy is to be seen in the future as leading woman with Bert Lytell in "Making Good" comes press notice which tells us what Eileen thinks of jazz music. Miss Percy, you will remember, was leading woman for Douglas Fairbanks in several of his pictures. In fact she played in what we considered one of Doug's best pictures, "Down to Earth."

Notwithstanding the fact that Miss Percy was a Ziegfeld "Follies" girl before she entered pictures, she absolutely taboos ragtime and syncopated music.

"And jazz," says Miss Percy with a decided tone of scorn, "should not even be spoken in the same breath with music."

Think of it, this from a girl who danced on the boards to fox-trot and one-step melodies until the pictures claimed her.

Miss Percy is devoted to classical music and claims that it "inspires her."

Whenever Miss Percy is missed from a "set" on the studio stage she can invariably be found close to the phonograph or the baby grand piano, listening or playing. Recently the Lytell company "shot" some wedding scenes in Christ Episcopal church in Los Angeles and every once in a while the little leading woman would slip away to a quiet nook in the organ loft to indulge in real music.

It is a safe guess, however, that Robert Lytell would rather dance with this little Belfast girl who is so nimble of toe than listen to organ music with her, who wouldn't?

WAS HE UNCONSCIOUS?
When someone asked Enrico Caruso the other day why he did not announce his engagement before he surprised the world with his marriage, he innocently replied: "But I didn't know it myself until it happened."

DINNER STORIES

A certain prominent railway director was asked by an employee whose parents live in the country for a pass to visit his family.

"You are in the employ of the company?" inquired the director.

"Well, now, suppose you were working for a farmer instead of the company, would you expect your employer to take out his horses every Saturday night and carry you home?"

"No," said the employee politely. "I should not expect that. But if the farmer had his horses out and was going my way I should call him a very mean fellow if he would not let me ride!"

"Germany's mouth for conquests and annexations is as big as it ever was," said an actor at a luncheon in Los Angeles. "Germany is like the second heavy."

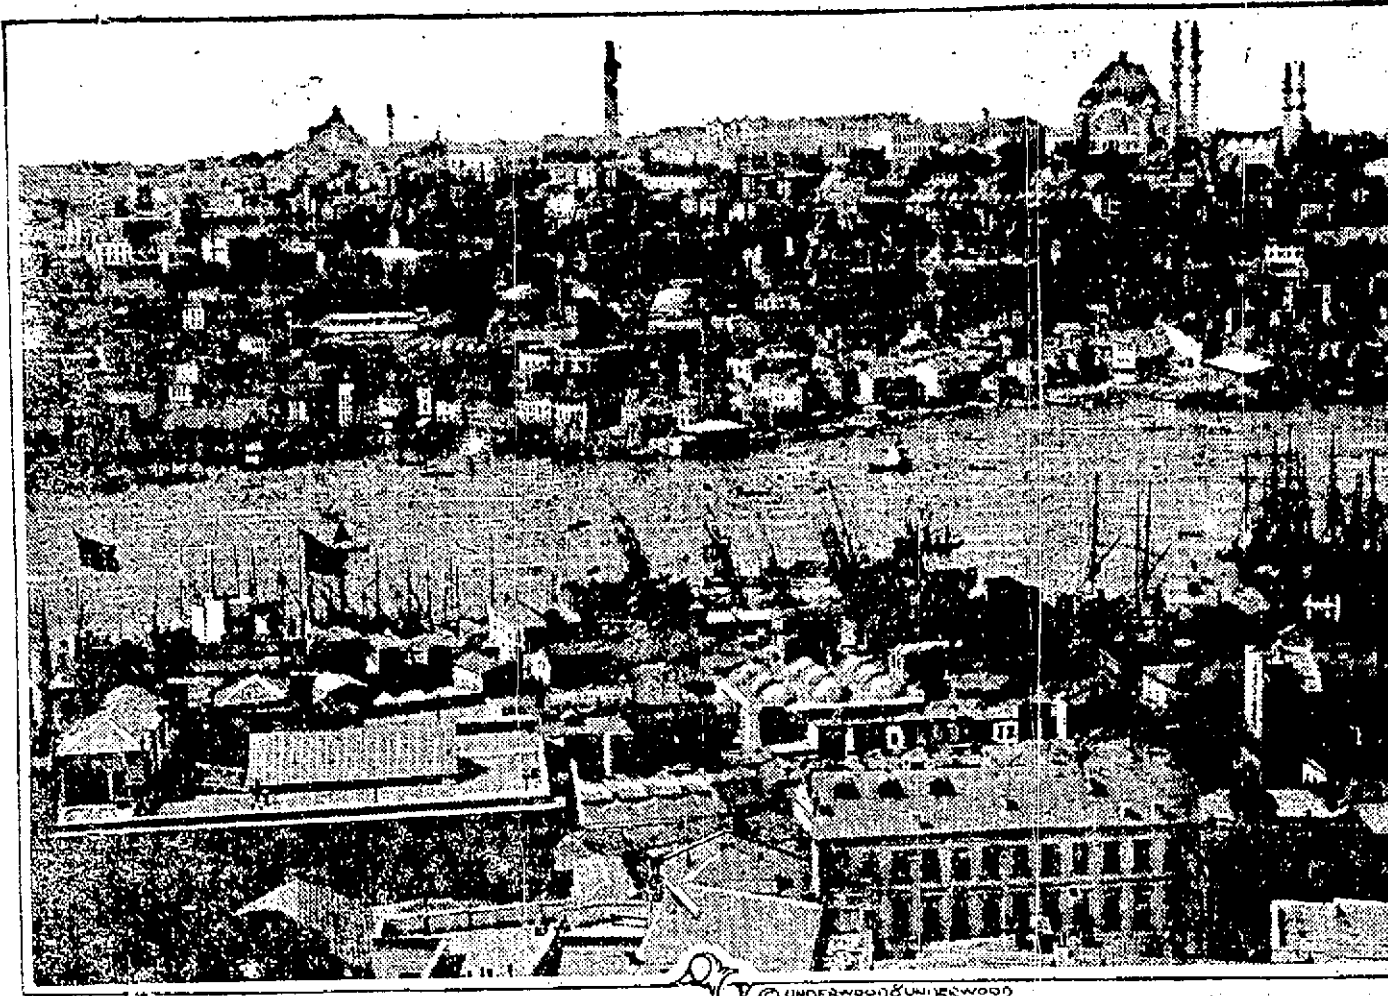

"A second heavy had a very, very large mouth. One evening the company gave a party, and on toward the small hours the refreshments began to run out. It was a long time between drinks. Finally, though, a fresh pint of whisky was brought in. "What'll you have?" the chairman asked the second heavy.

"A mouthful of whisky," said he. "No, you won't son," said the chairman. "You'll have just the same as the rest of us."

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON—The American cargo steamer San Saba of the Mallory line was sunk yesterday southeast of Barmegat, N. J., the navy department was informed today. It is supposed the ship struck a mine. How many of the crew were rescued is not yet known.

A steamer proceeding to New York reported that she picked up four men and one dead body from the wreckage. Naval steamers were immediately sent to the scene to search for possible survivors and to sweep the vicinity for mines.

BAKERS ELECT OFFICERS.

MILWAUKEE—Delegates to the Wisconsin Association of Master Bakers concluded their convention Wednesday with the election of officers. Joseph Pochmann, Milwaukee, was re-elected president. Other officers elected are: vic president, L. C. Sorenson, Kenosha; secretary, Joseph W. Pinzer, Milwaukee; treasurer, F. Kullman, Milwaukee; board of directors, John C. Rose, Burlington; Albert Holl and J. C. Kraemer, Milwaukee.

The members voted to meet again in Milwaukee next year. Bakers were told that the regulation prohibiting the use of sugar for icing will not become effective until Oct. 10. In order to extend sugar rations, bakers may purchase a light brown sugar, they were told. This may be purchased in 25 percent greater amounts than granulated sugar.

rear guards have reached the heights southeast of Morvilliers. French and American troops in Champagne have gained further ground north of Blanc Mont in the direction of the river Arnes.

Along the Aisne canal in the region of Rheims the French are pressing the Germans vigorously and have crossed the canal at several points. The French have reached the outskirts of Berniercourt, east of the canal.

Violent fighting continues north of St. Quentin. In desperate fighting the French have driven the enemy from the heights southeast of Charbon-Vert.

The French have maintained their gains in heavy fighting east of the Argonne forest.

Northwest of Rheims in the last five days the French have taken more than 2,500 prisoners and 31 guns.

Yanks Win Air Fight
WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY NORTHWEST OF VERDUN (Friday)—Just before nightfall eight American pursuit planes encountered more than 25 enemy machines beyond the lines while on a balloon shooting expedition. The Americans had accomplished their mission when they ran on to the big squadron of German airplanes. A fight followed which lasted more than 15 minutes but when it was concluded 5 of the enemy planes were downed and all but one of the American squadron was on its way home safe.

ITALIAN AVIATORS PROVE FAR SUPERIOR TO ENEMY: ITALIAN DROPPED THIS PLANE

Austrian plane shot down by Italian.

A giant crane is raising this Austrian airplane brought down after a sharp battle with an Italian birdman. The pilot of the wrecked plane is a prisoner of war in Italy. The Italian airmen are proving frequently that they have the edge on their foes in the battles in the clouds. The Italian marksmanship is better and he handles his plane more scientifically.

The American lines east of Gerardmer in Lorraine with a strong parity. The attack was a total failure. The German party was comprised of sixty men and every member of it who reached the American lines was either killed or captured. Five wounded prisoners remained in the hands of the Americans.

British Make Progress
LONDON—In the region north of St. Quentin British troops made substantial progress yesterday southeast of Beaurevoir and north of Le Catelet. Field Marshal Haig's report today says that 800 prisoners were captured.

Gerardmer is southeast of Epinal and eight miles from the German border opposite Colmar, Alsace.

TODAY'S SITUATION

(By the Associated Press)
Wisconsin, Illinois, Western Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia troops have stormed the German lines east of the Argonne forest. They advanced all along the line, especially in the region east of the forest where they pushed forward as far as Fleville.

Many villages back of the German lines are reported to be burning. Dispatches indicate that these fires were deliberately kindled by the Germans. They probably are evidence that the enemy intends to retire further toward the Kriemhild line which is the main defensive position west of the Meuse.

West of the Argonne, American troops joined the French in the fighting west of Challerange where Blanc Mont and Medan farm were taken and the allies moved northward toward Vouziers, an important railroad point through which the enemy moves his supplies for a wide section of the front. Although the British are reported to be clear through the Hindenburg system north and east of St. Quentin, the Germans have apparently succeeded in retarding the advance of Field Marshal Haig's men. Terrific counter attacks have driven the British back slightly at some points but have not succeeded in materially altering the situation. British cavalry and tanks are said to be operating in the open country back of the German lines but have not been able to debouch there and bring about a retreat of the Germans north and south of Le Catelet. Fighting in this section has been of the most desperate character.

In the Flanders sector advancing British forces are within six miles of Lille. It is indicated in reports that the enemy intends to construct another defensive line further east and attempt to stem the tide of defeat which has set so strongly against them on the northern front.

Dispatches seem to show that the enemy is abandoning his submarine bases on the Belgian coast. The coast has been under fire from British warships for the last few days and it is said that the exodus of Germans is now under way.

North of Rheims the French have moved still further northward and are exerting heavy pressure against the enemy's position running from the Aisne river to the Champagne front.

In Albania Austrian armies which have been holding the line along the Semini river seem to be in precipitate retreat. Italian cavalry is operating in this theatre of the war.

British forces have been active in northern Italy and have raided the Austrian positions opposite them.

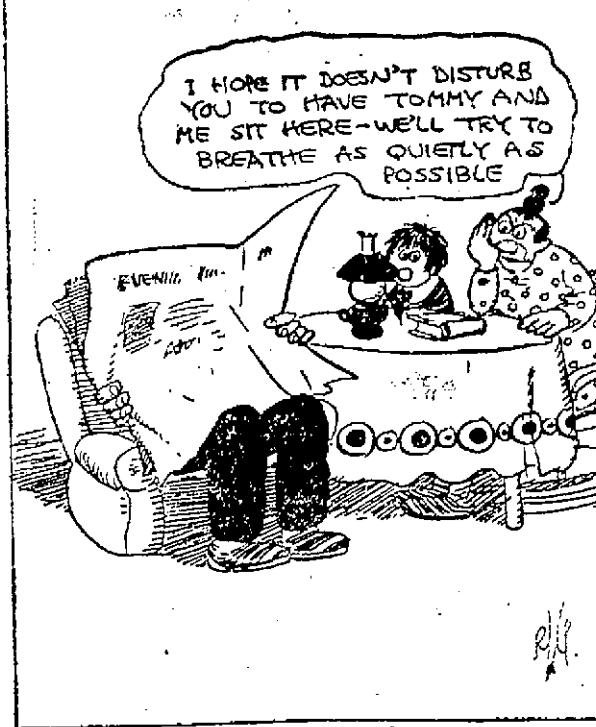

Austria is reported to have requested Holland to invite the belligerents to take part in peace negotiations. It is said that Holland has already acted on this suggestion. Advances from London state that little attention is being paid there to the matter which is looked upon as a new phase of the "peace offensive" of the central powers.

Hungary seems to be exerting pressure on the Austrian government in taking steps to end the war. A delegation of Hungarian leaders has arrived at Vienna for this purpose. In this connection it has been rumored recently that the possibility of Hungary acting separately in the matter of peace was one which should not be ignored.

Turkey is also reported to have taken steps which may result in her withdrawal from the

NINE "HOPS" FOR BIG "CHUCK" AND
D—! THE KAISER

"Damn the Kaiser and the Spanish flu," is the way "Chuck" Carpenter, last year's football man, begins a letter to his mother, Mrs. C. R. Carpenter, 109 West Washington avenue.

Three other University of Wisconsin men are with Carpenter—Don Spurrier, Tom Caldwell and John Strader.

Carpenter was business manager of the 1916 "Badger" and captain-elect of this year's football nine.

He is now stationed at the Naval Aviation training school, Key West, Florida. He writes that he has already had nine "hops" or flights. All preliminary flying during training is done in double patrols, but as quickly as the aviator completes the required number of hours of instruction, he is allowed to "solo."

Ten hours of instruction are necessary before the aviator is permitted to do any "soloing," and "Chuck" writes that he has already completed six hours.

"They sure are strong on the safety stuff down here," he writes. "No carelessness is permitted, and there is absolutely no stunt flying. If a soloist is discovered in even the slightest carelessness, he is immediately put upon extra duty and deprived of his privilege of soloing."

Key West, "Chuck" says, is the most efficient naval station in the U. S. A. Being a patrol station, it possesses 3 H. boats, great heavy planes used in sea aviation, and 4 "blimps"—a "blimp" being a rather sausage-shaped dirigible balloon.

"I am beginning to feel quite at home here," he continues, "but you would never recognize me. I am brown as a 'coon with sun and grease.'"

BLACK WALNUT SEARCH.
WAUSAU—The Marathon county council of defense has asked all timber estimators, surveyors, hunters and others interested in forest products to keep a lookout for available supplies of walnut wood, necessary in the manufacture of airplane propellers, shipbuilding and other war construction.

It is believed, however, that she will hang on as long as possible.

MUNITION PLANT
EXPLOSIONS
TERRORIZE EAST

ugees arriving at one of the towns said that before the first explosion occurred last night they saw an airplane hovering over the Gillespie plant.

A semi-official estimate placed the death list at 15 with a declaration that virtually the entire working force except a few in the building where the explosion occurred fled from the works ahead of the succeeding blasts.

The American Red Cross has begun relief work among refugees and injured.

Towns Under Military Guard
Telephone communication with Morgan was suspended by the repeated explosions making the obtaining of details almost impossible. Military guards were thrown around the plant and all newspaper men were barred from the vicinity of the explosion.

With big explosions still taking place at 10 a. m., shaking surrounding towns, Vice President Yates of the Gillespie company gave out the following statement:
"We cannot conceive how it can last much longer. The large magazines of T. N. T. are buried in a bank of the Cheesecake creek and we feel are safe."

Perth Amboy and South Amboy saloons were closed and the towns were under military control. Occasional explosions were taking place this forenoon as far as two miles away from the Gillespie plant. The magazines which are buried alongside the creek contain a seven day supply of T. N. T.

The cause of the disaster is not known, but several investigations were under way today. Rumors were circulated that spies or alien enemies were responsible, but these were promptly discounted by officials.

Buildings are being blasted to stop the spread of flames which were said to be raging in some of the buildings at 9:30 a. m.

KRUEGER HEARING
AGAIN POSTPONED

(By the Associated Press)
EAU CLAIRE—The preliminary hearing of Mrs. Louis Krueger and son, Frank, of Withee, Clark county, scheduled for today at Neillsville, was again postponed until Oct. 11 because Frank's wounds are not yet sufficiently healed to permit leaving the jail. The charge is first degree murder in connection with the killing of Harry Jensen, "Soo" station agent at Owen, in the battle between deputies and home guards and the four Kruegers whose arrest was being sought on charges of evading the draft at the Krueger home Sept. 14. The Kruegers have not yet secured an attorney.

TRAINING FOR DRAFTED.
GREEN BAY—The Green Bay vocational school has completed arrangements for the training of drafted men. Classes in radio work, motor truck driving, electricity and shoe repairing have been organized and if there is sufficient enrollment these classes will be made up for boys. These classes are to provide draft men with knowledge that will give them higher ratings when they are called. Certificates will be given all students when called for service showing the work done in the classes. Men called before finishing the course of their training must answer the call but will be given certificates.
